DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the controller must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: related application information is omitted (page 1, line 8). Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or
(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

4. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Iwabuchi (USPN 6,454,636). Iwabuchi discloses a grinding system comprising a grinding tool 8 having a grinding surface adapted to grind a part 7, a spindle 6

connected to the grinding tool 8, a first motor coupled to the spindle 6 and adapted to rotate the spindle 6 and the grinding tool 8, a nozzle 37 adapted to supply a coolant material, an arm 21 coupled to the nozzle 37 and to the grinding tool and adapted to allow placement of the nozzle in multiple positions, each of the positions being substantially tangent to the grinding surface of the grinding tool 8, a second motor 65 connected to the arm 21 and adapted to move the nozzle 37 through each of the positions, a controller 69 coupled to the second motor and adapted to control the movement of the nozzle 37 to supply the coolant material based upon a location of the part 7 relative the grinding tool 8, a bearing collar 31 coupled around the spindle 6 of the grinding tool 8 and to the arm 21, a belt 68 coupled to the arm 21 and to a second motor 65 and adapted to translate rotation of the motor 65 into movement of the arm 21, wherein the nozzle 37 is adapted to supply the coolant material at substantially the same velocity as the grinding surface of the grinding tool 8, wherein the arm 21 is coupled to the spindle 6 of the grinding tool 8, wherein the nozzle 37 pivots and the grinding tool rotates about the same axis CL, wherein the arm 21 is adapted to allow placement of the nozzle 7 along an arcuate path, wherein the controller 69 is a computer numeric control (CNC) device, wherein the CNC device is adapted to control a location of the part 7. Iwabuchi also discloses a method of supplying coolant material fro a grinding tool having a spindle 6 and a grinding surface comprising providing a nozzle 37 adapted to supply a coolant material, moving the nozzle 37 through multiple positions, each of the positions being substantially tangent to the grinding surface of the grinding tool 8, supplying coolant material at substantially the same velocity as the grinding surface of the grinding tool, wherein moving includes moving the nozzle 37 along an arcuate path (note Fig. 1-6, col. 6, line 11 to col. 16, line 60).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Yokoyama et al and Togawa et al are cited to show grinding system.
